

A stylized, graphic illustration of a volcano erupting into the sea. The volcano is a large, rounded shape in red and orange, with a bright yellow and green plume of smoke or ash rising from its crater. The sea is depicted in shades of blue and white, with dark blue waves and white foam. The sky is a light blue with white, wavy lines representing clouds or smoke. The overall style is reminiscent of mid-century modern graphic design.

Angelo Trimarco

Napoli

UN RACCONTO D'ARTE

1954 / 2000

Editori Riuniti